The many friends of Mrs. John T. Given were shocked to hear of her untimely death last Saturday evening by committing suicide. She has been in bad health lately, and her devoted attention at the bedside of her sick husband is sail to have rendered her condition worse. Walle at the house of Mr. Robert V. Laskey of 739 Sixth street, she asked for a glass of water, into which she slipped some araenic. Upon being questioned she admitted the fact. Drs. Lincoin and Patterson were called in, but were unable to save the life of the unfortunate woman. She said that she had attempted her life once before at Colontal Beach. She was the second wife of Mr. Given, who has been seriously ill, and who could not be told of his wife's death.

In the spring we came near being washed at. In the summer we had very cool weather, affecting our sales of summer fabries, and now, when we should have good, solid, snappy fall weather, it is warm enough to go without any extra wraps whatever; so you can very easily see that a merchant's calculations amount to nothing-big stocks and no move. The only conclusion that we have come to is that we might effect extra sales by slashing the profit from our goods and dispos ing of them at a mere margin above cost,

We still continue to dwell on Wraps, as that department is surely overstocked, if the weather continues in this channel.
